INDUSTRIAL WAR.

The Sympathetic Strike at the Chicago Stock Yards Was Completed Wednesday.

THE 700 TEAMSTERS WENT OUT.

The Waitresses in the Packing House Restaurant Struck, Also Stenographers in General Offices.

Several Small Riots Took Place Tuesday Which Is Believed to Be Only a Foretaste of What Is To Come.

Chicago, July 27.—The sympathetic strike at the stockyards was complete Wednesday morning. The belated sanction of the teamsters joining their brother workmen in the general strike was given Tuesday night by the officers of the International Teamsters' union, and the 700 drivers employed in the packing industry in Chicago quit work. Nearly 100 of these men struck Tuesday of their own volition, refusing to wait for an official order notifying them that the sympathetic strike was indorsed. With the union teamsters out every union organization represented in the Chicago packing plants is on strike. The teamsters organization is considered one of the most important organizations in the present controversy and all along was mainly depended on to bring success to the strikers.

The greater portion of the fresh meats disposed of to the local trade is hauled in wagons to the downtown district by these teamsters. With the men on strike and no union men in their places rioting is almost sure to follow and a duplication of the riots which took place in 1902 during the packing house teamsters' strike are looked for as soon as the packers attempt to deliver their products with non-union help.

Riots by the unionists and their friends in the stockyards district on Tuesday night resulted in the shooting of one man and the beating of another into insensibility, while a third was severely cut and bruised. This is believed by the police to be but a foretaste of what is to come, now that the teamsters have joined issues with the other union workmen.

A peculiar situation growing out of the strike of waitresses in the packing house restaurants came to light at the Swift plant, when Swift's waitresses struck some of the stenographers in the general offices offered to do the work and when the superintendent tried to reinforce these by asking others to help, 50 women stenographers walked out of the building in anger.

Little if any advantage was gained by either side in the stockyards strike Tuesday and there is no hope of any immediate settlement of the difficulty. Realizing that they have one of the hardest propositions to contend with in the history of the packing industry, the packers are leaving nothing undone to gain the upper hand in the struggle with their 30,000 union employees who are on strike. All day long workmen from outside points were rushed to Chicago and taken to the stockyards, under police protection, to fill the places of the strikers. Tuesday night it was announced by the packers that 7,000 new men were now installed in the different plants at the stockyards. With these men and with the new arrivals that are expected each day, the packers expect to get their affairs in such shape that the strikers will be compelled to seek a truce in the hostilities and seek a peaceable settlement at the dictation of the employers.

It was also stated here Tuesday night that officers of the International Teamsters' union has issued orders calling out all teamsters in the employ of the big packing plants at Kansas City, St. Louis and Boston.

The union live stock handlers decided late Tuesday night to return to work at the stockyards in sufficient numbers to handle all live stock bought by the independent packers.

The Russian batteries, continues the correspondent, were served better than those of the Japanese. The Russians made a fierce bayonet attack and retained their positions at nightfall, but were unexpectedly ordered to retire during the night. In the morning of July 25 they evacuated the railroad station at Ta Tche Kiao, carrying off the movables and burning the bulk of their supplies. The British Government is Taking Energetic Action in the Case.

London, July 27.—The British government is taking energetic action in the case of the sinking of the British steamer Knight Commander by the Vladivostok squadron. All information received by the government tends to establish in the official mind a belief that an outrage has been committed for which no excuse exists in international law. Those aware of the feelings of the ministry said Tuesday night that all the members of the cabinet are in accord regarding the principles of the inviolability of innocent neutral shipping as well as upon the principle that a neutral ship can not be destroyed even if carrying contraband of war.

EXPENSES OF STRIKE $1,000,000.

The Official Report of the Board of Inquiry Which Was Established at Victor, Col.

Number of Men Recommended For Deportation, 238; Trial in Criminal Court, 42, and 1,289 Were Ordered Released.

Denver, Col., July 27.—Gov. Peabody Tuesday issued a proclamation calling off military rule in Teller county and placing the Cripple Creek district in charge of the civil authorities.

This action was taken by the governor in face of opposition from many influential citizens of Cripple Creek, who desire to prevent deported union miners from returning to the district. Before issuing his order, however, the governor received assurances from Sheriff Edward Bell that his forces were able to control the situation.

The military expenses of the state during the past 18 months due to strikes are said to aggregate about $1,000,000.

No troops are now under arms anywhere in Colorado, and good order prevails in all the mining camps.

The following official report of the military court, or board of inquiry, which was established here on June 8, was given out Tuesday night, as follows:

"The commission assembled at once and proceeded to examine all parties appearing. The number of those appearing was 1,569; the number recommended for deportation, 235; for trial in the criminal courts, 42; and 1,289 were ordered released.

"Of those recommended for deportation, the list was composed of agitators, ore thieves, keepers of fences for stolen ore, habitués of bawdy houses, saloon bums and vagrants. The examination was conducted along the line of desirability of those examined for residence in this district with a view to peace and law observance, and no other purpose was had in view in the recommendation."

John Fisher, Joseph Fisher, John Schmidt and John Miller at 9:15 o'clock Tuesday night were driven from their homes in the suburb of Hollywood, about a mile east of this city, by three or four men. John Fisher escaped and came to military headquarters, where he made known the facts. What has become of the other three has not yet been learned. MAN OF KEENEST HONOR AND RARE MORAL BRAVERY.

A law journal can be counted on to discuss politicians and politics in a dispassionate manner, and its views of men and policies are entitled to great consideration. The following from the Law Journal of Albany, N. Y., will therefore be read with interest:

The nomination of Chief Judge Alton B. Parker of the New York Court of Appeals by the Democratic National convention in session at St. Louis, while it deprives that tribunal of its head—for Judge Parker undoubtedly will resign immediately after his formal notification—insures to the country, in case of his election, an exceedingly able, well poised and eminently safe Chief Executive. Moreover, the dramatic event at the close of the convention, in which Judge Parker was the chief figure, instantly placed him before his countrymen as one of the great men of his time, a man who has convictions, most positive convictions and was not afraid to express them. His now historic telegram to the convention, in which he committed himself irrevocably to the gold standard, and, in effect, declined the nomination on any other basis, at once revealed him as a man of keenest honor and rare moral bravery. No man ever put away a greater honor than he put away when he sent this telegram. By this one act of splendid renunciation, he instantly became a great, commanding figure, and immeasurably enhanced himself in the popular respect, esteem and confidence. He showed himself to be of Presidential stature. Whether elected or defeated, he will have nothing to regret.

ROOSEVELT AND HIS PARTY.

There is no longer any doubt that a considerable element in the Republican party are dissatisfied with President Roosevelt and his domineering tactics, and unless they are pacified this dissatisfaction is certain to cut a figure in the election next November. To show the extent of this dissatisfaction the following will prove of interest:

"It is interesting to notice," says the Philadelphia Record, "how many tributes to the President's popularity we get. In March Mr. Root went over to New York and in a speech deplored the fact that the President was not trusted by the people of his own city. He explained why he ought to be trusted. We had the other day the statement of the New York correspondent of a Republican paper that the President was less liked in New York City than in the State and country, and that the big financial men in New York would support their party in spite of the President instead of on his account. Then came a Republican paper published in Indianapolis, and owned by the Republican candidate for Vice President, which said that there was not such determined opposition to the President among the Indiana Republicans as among those of the East.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, a very stiff partisan Republican organ, says that if Mr. Root could be induced to take the nomination for Governor in New York "the business interests, which now look askance at the national administration, would gain a new and better viewpoint when they saw such a man as Elihu Root staking his personal fortunes upon its reasonableness and rectitude. However those interested may misunderstand Theodore Roosevelt, they neither misunderstand nor distrust Elihu Root." So the business interests misunderstand and distrust the President, and view the administration with distrust, do they?

Finally, we have ex-Senator Kellogg's remark about the President's unpopularity with the Republican leaders and the general distrust of him among the business interests. Are the Republicans really going to try very hard to elect a man who inspires such sentiments?

DAVIS, THE BRAKEMAN.

Comrade Tells How Vice Presidential Candidate Hustled.

(Wheeling (W. Va.) Cor N. Y. Evening Sun.) Adam Medley, who for fifty years ran an engine on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, says Henry G. Davis, the Democratic Vice Presidential candidate, was as big a railroad man as he is politician and financier. He says he ought to know, for he ran the engine and Mr. Davis had charge of the train as conductor for a number of years on the main line of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

Medley, who has long since been retired and placed on a salary, could hardly contain himself when he heard that his former companion had been named for so distinguished an office.

"We ran from Baltimore to Wheeling in those days," said Medley, "and Davis was on hand when the clock struck the hour, and I can tell you that every minute of the time after that he was keenly alive to the interests of the company. He was pretty well up in the railroad world when I met him. He had been braking and was just then getting his eyes open, so to speak. He began to take an interest in the vacant land along the line, and frequently spoke of the rich mining prospects offered by various inviting tracts of coal property in the mountainous districts.

"Shortly after Davis and I rounded out a pretty good spell of railroad work he was called to the agency of the company at Piedmont. I can tell you that was a pretty big thing in those days, about as big as a district superintendency is now. He was the big man from that on, but no matter how big he got from a railroad point of view, no matter how his authority increased, he was the same old 'Henry G.' Shortly after he was promoted to the Piedmont office he began to carry out the plans he had matured long years before.

"As soon as he got money he invested in timber and coal lands, and in the course of a few years he had thousands of acres of both in the eastern part of the State. I can remember when he bought virgin forests, the ground underlaid with rich coal, for $1.25 an acre. Now you could not buy them for 1,000 times as much. 'Henry G.' as we called him, got his wealth through genuine hustle, and that's all there is to it, and if he's inaugurated Mr. Medley will be one of the guests."

CROP OUTLOOK.

Rain Needed to Keep the Corn and Tobacco Booming.

[Weekly Bulletin of Weather Bureau, July 26]
The first of the week was quite warm, with local showers covering the greater portion of the State; the latter part was cool and generally dry.

Wheat threshing was delayed by the rain, but progressed well the last of the week. The crop is better in yield and quality than was expected.

Tobacco is doing fairly well. The early fields in the Western portion of the State are especially good, but the later setting is not now so promising. In the Burley districts of the Bluegrass and north-central counties, the crop is uneven and the stand frequently poor.

Corn has made good progress and looks very promising. The harvesting of oats is nearly completed and a fairly good crop has been secured. Irish potatoes and garden vegetables are very good.

Apples and peaches have deteriorated and will give short yields.

In some localities pastures are needing rain badly, but over the greater part of the State they are quite good.

A rural route carrier suggests that all the roads in the county districts be named, and all the farm houses numbered, the same as buildings in the city. The farm houses could be numbered, according to the section they are in, one hundred numbers to the section. It is believed that such a plan, if carried out, would be a great convenience to the general public as well as the carriers. It is said that it is in quite general use in the East, where it gives good satisfaction.

TO BUY FROM GROWERS.

Continental Tobacco Company Will Have Representatives at Thirty Points in the Burley District This Year.

[Western Tobacco Journal, Cincinnati.]

The burley trade of Cincinnati is awaiting with interest the developments of this fall's campaign. Selling conditions are continually changing, and this year promises to be no exception to the rule.

During last winter and spring the Continental Tobacco Company had buyers located in twenty-two different points throughout the burley district, and by means of these agents they were enabled to successfully engineer the coup of last spring. A considerable quantity of burley had been bought from the growers, and only when the buying became urgent did the market feel the effects. The effects at the present time are apparent, as the total offerings of burley on the Cincinnati market are only about half what they were last year. Part of the decrease is due to the short crop, but the greater part is due to the fact that the Continental purchased from first hands, and thus diverted the tobacco from its regular channel.

It is understood that this method will be continued, but on an enlarged scale. Additional men are now being engaged, and it is said that ten or a dozen more will be placed in as many points.

What this means can readily be seen. If thirty or thirty-five men are constantly employed, an enormous amount of tobacco will be purchased, which will never reach competitive markets.

The trade is alive to the situation, and tobacco will not go begging this fall. No one will be caught napping, and no such phenomenal rise will be possible as occurred this spring.

Gem Choppers For Sale in Maysville by

WE DON'T KNOW WHY

We sell more Food Choppers at this time of the year than any other, but we do. Guess it's on account of the fruit and vegetable season. However, there is no time during the entire year that a Gem Chopper in the kitchen is not seasonable. Takes the place of the old-fashioned chopping bowl and knife—does better work, without noise—without tearing, squeezing, mashing or grinding. It saves time and adds to the pleasure of housekeeping.

ECONOMICAL

Paris Green!

Our kind of Paris Green would be economical at double the ordinary price because it is about double the ordinary strength and kills every tobacco worm that touches it. However as any old common kind. We pay enough to get the best Paris Green and have handled this same brand for years so that we know just what it does. There isn't as much profit for the druggist in our kind as there is in the ordinary grade but there's a lot more profit in it for the tobacco grower. Better use our Paris Green this year.

It Costs the
